Dears colleagues, dear friends,

After the long period of lock-down, it's time to resume academic activities. We feel hence an enormous pleasure to welcome you all in Lausanne for the international symposium of the Swiss Peritoneal Cancer Group (SPCG) !

Caring for patients with peritoneal surface malignancies has undergone tremendous changes over the last decade. New treatment options and multimodal approaches helped to improve prognosis and brought hope to patients and their families. The care providers face the challenge to define the optimal treatment sequence in a field where evidence is scarce and discrepant. Time to get together again and have open discussions in a friendly and enjoyable atmosphere !

The symposium has a clear Swiss accent but also international flair featuring key opinion leaders from seven different countries. Structure and content of the program should guarantee active participation of the audience and stimulating exchange between the different disciplines.

Welcome to Lausanne !

Martin Hübner
